ongregation of Evangelical Church Gave the Reverend M. Iben a Handsome Testimonial.

Sunday celebrated the twenty-fifth annireary of the ordination of its pastor, the Reverend U. Iben, who was installed as a in 1878 which made its final report Saturday, had found indictments against promoters of three co-operative building and loan associations, with headquarters in St. Louis. The bench warrants will be issued when court convenes this morning.

It is said that the companies have been doing business in Alton for several years and have between 700 and 800 investors in Madison County. It is said the companies have no charter to do business in Illinois, and it is believed the indictments were drawn under the clause of the statutes which prohibits foreign co-operative associations from business. end K. Schlegel of Dorsey, his sermon be-ing from the text, I Sam. vii, 12. The school children took part in the services, singing several songs. singing several songs.

At its close J. Doepke, the superintendent, congratulated the minister upon behasf of the church members, and presented him with a handsome gold watch and chain. The Misses Emma Goebel and Esther Doepke, on behasf of the Sunday school, also made him a present. Several congratulatory messages from members at a distance were read.

COAL BARGES SINK IN RIVER.

Twenty-Eight Thousand Tons Go Down Opposite Lake Providence.

REPURIC SPECIAL

Yicksburg, Miss. March I.—Captain John
M. Cameron, representative of the Monongahela River Coal Company, this evening tave out the information that the towboat Joseph B. Williams, coming down the Mississippi River with a heavy fixet of coal barges, has sunk and disabled twenty-eight barges londed with Pittsburg coal, just opposite Lake Providence, La., and he is informed by latest reports that the fleet is in a precurious condition.

The news arrived here test before Contain.

or.dition.

The news arrived here just before Captain ohn Moren, the traveling agent for the conongahela Company, was ready to leave or New Orleans, and he boarded the steamer Delta and went to the scene of the disaster
Captain Cameron estimates that in the sinking of the portion of the coal fleet the company sustains a loss of 25,000 tons of coal, although there is a chance to save some of it with steam coal diggers which have been ordered from Memphis and New Orleans.
